

About Neil Ferris

Neil Ferris was appointed Chorus Director of the BBC Symphony Chorus in 2017. He is also Artistic Director of the professional chamber choir Sonoro and Music Director of Wimbledon Choral Society. In demand as guest conductor at some of the finest choirs in the UK, he has worked with London Symphony Chorus, Choir of the Age of Enlightenment, BBC Singers and the National Youth Choir of Wales.

Neil has led masterclasses at the Royal College of Music, Royal Academy of Music, Royal Welsh College of Music and Drama and the Royal Birmingham Conservatoire and abroad in the USA, Ireland, Denmark, China and Singapore. He has taught for the Association of British Choral Directors on their conducting courses and has led masterclasses at Convention.

